FOOTNOTES; PETER EPP FAMILY TREE 1690.

1. In fairness it should be noted that the Epp family also included fanatical adherents of Separatist Pietism such as David Epp (1779-1862) minister of the Neuberger Congregation in Prussia and his nephew Claass Epp who in the 1880's led a group of radical millenialists to Asia to await the Second Coming in accordance with the teaching of the millenialist that were in vogue with the Prussian Pietists. See The Golden Years and Claass and Talmud for further details.

2. [illegible] Peter, [illegible] Mennonite, (Mennonite Genealogy, 1979, Weight-0), 261.

3. [illegible], The [illegible] (1811-1862) Reinport, Molotschna, and His Descendants, (Winnipeg, Manitoba, 1980), 23-24.

4. Gustav Peiser, "Epp", ME 2, 222

5. I acknowledge with thanks Margaret Kreider, Mennonite Genealogy, Winnipeg, Manitoba, who first wetted my interest in the Epp family by prviding me with a list of the children of Peter Epp b. c. 1690. Letter to the author August 12, 1992.

6. [illegible] and her "Pedigree Chart of Peter Epp and Anna Claass" [illegible] The [illegible] (1725-1790) [illegible] the children of Peter Epp (1725-1790) [illegible] the preceding context.

7. [illegible] Mennonite [illegible] Family [illegible] Epp [illegible]

8. [illegible] Mennonite [illegible], (Winnipeg, 1955).

9. [illegible] Epp [illegible]

10. [illegible] Peter, [illegible], 199.

11. Herst Penner, [illegible]