Section Four: Johann Cornelius Epp 1722-1805

Cornelius Epp [illegible] been in Petershagen, West Prussia in 1720. He married for the first time to Sara Andres from the Schiebe near Danzig where the young couple resided until 1701 when they moved to Neuhuber. In 1706 Cornelius Epp was elected minister in Nassenhuben and by 1730 he had become the leading minister of the Danzig Gemeinde. His first wife died in 1750 after which Cornelius Epp married for the second time to Christina Fast from the City Quarter of Danzig. She died in 1790 in Neuhuber.[72]

According to the Konsignation 1776 there [illegible] Epp living in Neuhuber [illegible] children, [illegible] having one male and two female servants. However this [illegible] the [illegible] Cornelius Epp [illegible] the [illegible] Neuhuber in 1701 [illegible] possible [illegible] 1776.

[illegible] Klein Arbeit: [illegible] Epp [illegible] daughter of the [illegible] Peter Epp [illegible] aged 24 [illegible] in Neuhuber. The [illegible] Klein Arbeit [illegible] they decided to emigrate to [illegible] village of Petershagen.

[illegible] Cornelius Epp [illegible] 1757, [illegible] minister of the Chortitz Colony [illegible] Cornelius Epp, [illegible] the Honour the Cornelius [illegible] at the present time, and it is possible that he [illegible] time of the p[illegible] of the Honour the Heinrich Epp [illegible] P.H.Unruh. Cornelius Epp [illegible] Petershagen, [illegible] grown up [illegible] "Danziger Kaufleute" [illegible] written in [illegible]

[illegible] Epp [illegible]