Cf. Henry Tiessen, "The Molotschna Colony", pp. 98, 99. Tiessen writes about grandmother Maria in her old age. She found it difficult to adjust to retirement. She continued to do much work around the farm. She was especially fond of roses and the grandchildren would help her in the grafting procedures. She did much handiwork and wrote frequently to her children. After Johann died she lived with her son Bernhard and family in Ladekopp.
