

Footnotes. Jakob Bearq Genealogy.

1. This information courtesy of Henry Fast, Steinbach, Manitoba, is found in the Mennonitische Rundschau issues March 23, 1910; May 25, 1910; July 13, 1910 and May 3, 1911.
2. Unfortunately a review of all the listing in Unruh has so far failed to identify a possible Stammvater meeting the parameters of the presently available information. Perhaps Jakob Bearq Sr. emigrated to Russia after 1818 and did not get registered in the appropriate immigration records.
3. Information courtesy Henry Fast, Steinbach, Manitoba.
4. Courtesy of Henry Fast, Steinbach, Manitoba.
5. Mennonite Rundschau May 25, 1910. Courtesy of Henry Fast.
6. Mike Hornbaker, The Bergen History, (Maize, Kansas, 1983), page 9.
9. Both the Gerhard Enns and Peter Esau families later emigrated to Inman, Kansas.
7. One possible lead for further research regarding the family of Isaac Bearq is Johan Bearq born 1838 in Lichtenau, who emigrated to Henderson, Nebraska, in 1879. Later the family moved to Memmon, Saskatchewan where he died in 1926. See F.J. Berag, Record of the Family of Johan and Anna (Duerksen) Bearq, (1237 Ave. A. North, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, 1963), 2. The place of birth being the same may be a pure coincidence and yet could be a lead connecting these families.
8. See Mennonitische Rundschau March 23, 1910 and July 13, 1910. Courtesy of Henry Fast.
9. Bruno Penner, First Mennonite Church 1878-1978, (Mountain Lake, Minnesota, 1978), 94.
10. David A. Haury, Index to Mennonite Immigrants on United States Passenger Lists 1872-1904, (North Newton, Kansas, 1986), 223 pp.
11. "History of the Late Peter Friesen Family", Unpublished typewritten document, 1950, No author given.
12. See "History of the Late Peter Friesen Family", op.cit..
13. Bruno Penner, op.cit., 94.
14. The information for the family of Peter Friesen (1846-1910) is taken from the "History of the Late Peter Friesen family", op.cit..- Courtesy of M.I.A., Bethel College, North Newton, Kansas, 1989.