

FORWORD

This brief genealogical History of the KORNELIUS KORNELIUS LOEPP Family has been prepared with love and dedication. The story of family ancestry has been of long standing interest to many of us who share a common bond. Believing that the information about our heritage, about our ancestors and their descendants should not be lost, and that the descendants in this and in future generations would be interested, this Family History book has been prepared and published.

This brief History could not have been possible without the help of many individuals in our Loep families. To each one who submitted information in answer to my letters, I am truly grateful. It is regrettable that more complete data for some of the Loep families was not available. While every effort was made to check and recheck data and dates, it is most certain that there will be errors. This is regrettably unavoidable.

I have received much satisfaction in writing letters, in gathering data and information, in searching ancestry, and putting the information into a book of permanent form.

I trust those who read this publication will also enjoy learning about their heritage, knowing their ancestors and becoming acquainted with their contemporary relatives.

Margaret Truman Loep