

my daughter was in Kansas, and they went through the Warkentin area.
They all came from Russia, and as we were told they all were relatives of ours.

There were big wheat elevators and all kind of different business started by the Warkentins

Edna Schmidt