

In our book, the pictures will be more clear than these are,

The Mountain Ranch home built by Henry Thiessen in 1909. It was an over-night stop for the horse-drawn stages between Lewiston, Idaho, and Grangeville, Idaho.

Looking west at the Henry Thiessen Hereford Farm. About 1932 the high-roofed barn and the pile burned down by accident.

Mr. Clarkston, Cassington Cove. Built about 1918 by a North Idaho Silver miner.

1935, looking east at the Thiessen Hereford Farm, Sweetwater, Idaho. Note new round roof barn. Also, the Bundy School and accompanying horse barn in the right middle background.
